BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY, JUNE 20, 1885.

[PRICE, $2.00 PER YEAR

THE BLOOMFIELD CITIZEN

A WEEKLY JOURNAL

Local News & Home Reading.

Published at the Post-office at Bloomfield as second class matter.

Office: Over the Post Office.

Terms: Three Months, $1.50; Six Months, $2.50; One Year, $4.50. In Advance.

Special Notice.

The office of the Citizen is open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, from 7.45 to 10.00. Contributions should be sent to the office not later than Thursday evening.

The author's name must accompany all communications or contributions to the Citizen (which will be published or not as desired). All others will be rejected.

About Town.

The Committee of the Freeholders on the Clark Street bridge met at the bridge on Thursday of this week.

Miss McIntosh entertained her old Sunday School Class on Tuesday evening at her house on Ridgewood Avenue.

The gas-lamps on Ridgewood Avenue are now lighted and add greatly to the comfort of the residents on the Avenue.

In the Court of Special Sessions, on Monday last, John Mack was acquitted of atrocious assault and battery upon his wife.

The American House is the first approach to a Hotel that we have seen in Bloomfield, and presents a fine appearance.

The case of Donegan against Keve, Baker, and Provost, will be tried on Saturday morning before Justice Hagen.

On Saturday last Louis Lind met with a painful accident at Montclair by catching his fingers in a jointer machine. Three fingers were taken off at the first joint.

Rev. Paul Schmatz, of the Seminary, occupied the pulpit of the German Presbyterian Church on Sunday last. The pastor was confined to his house by sickness.

The Bloomfield Auxiliary Society of the Newark Orphan Asylum Association will hold their annual picnic at Weaver's Grove on Wednesday, June 24th. The children from the Asylum will be present.

This afternoon the Watessing base ball club will play the Clippers Club of the same place. The Mystic base ball club of Bloomfield will play the Montclair Club on the grounds of the latter club.

A special communication of Bloomfield Lodge No. 40, F. and A. M., will be held in Masonic Hall next Tuesday evening. A full attendance is desired as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

Thomas Oakes & Co. are making another addition to their woolen mill on Belleville Avenue. When completed an improved drying machine will be introduced which will greatly assist the work of the drying department.

There is fine bass fishing at Greenwood Lake and a number of Bloomfielders go up for the day every week. The 9.25 train from Bloomfield in the morning affords a person time for five or six hours good sport at the lake.

Mrs. VanWinkle, mother of John VanWinkle of this place, died in Paterson on Tuesday at an advanced age. The funeral was held from the late residence on Van Houten Street, Thursday afternoon. The deceased had been a widow for only a few months.

A children's fair and festival will be held in the German Presbyterian Church parlors on Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings of next week. The proceeds are for the benefit of the parsonage fund. The cause being a worthy one, it should have the patronage of a good portion of our citizens.

The Orange, Bloomfield and Montclair Directory for 1885 has just been received. It is published by Mr. Isaac P. Baldwin, of Orange, and may be obtained at the Chronicle Printing Office, Orange. It presents a very neat appearance and is well worth its price to every Bloomfield business man.

The Annual Sermon before the German Theological School, will be delivered in the German Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening by the Rev. Dr. Knox. The Annual Address will be delivered on Commencement Evening, Wednesday, the 25th, by Rev. Archibald Alexander Hodge, D. D., LL. D., in Westminster Church. The Alumni's meeting is on Tuesday afternoon.

As a newspaper is supposed to report all the local news, we feel it our duty to the friends of the Athletic Base Ball Club of this place, that they played with the Franklin Club on Sunday afternoon at this place. They earned a victory which carries no honors with it. The most disgraceful part of the affair was the fight. No blood was shed but plenty of noise and threats were made. We hope our Bloomfield boys will not repeat the affair on the Sabbath.

Henry Cadmus, a former resident and hat manufacturer of this place, died at his late residence, East Orange, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Cadmus had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for nearly two years. On Saturday morning he was out on the lawn for a while. Later he was taken with convulsions which were numerous until his death. The funeral services were largely attended on Wednesday afternoon at the late residence. Interment was made in Bloomfield. The deceased was in his 54th year. He was a member of Bloomfield Lodge No. 40, F. and A. M., and a prominent citizen during his residence here. He leaves a widow and four daughters.

The Westminster Society of Young People have an excursion planned for next week, Saturday, June 27. It is to be a "Field Day," the young people going in charge of Prof. Charles M. Davis to Little Falls by train, and starting from that point will explore the woods, rocks, and fields around that place and in the region of Upper Montclair. In other words, it is to be a scientific picnic, and as scientists the young ladies and gentlemen are advised to provide themselves with strong thick shoes and stout garments. Jack-knives, microscopes, geological hammers, botanical presses, etc., are in order; also pilgrim-scrips and tin cups, as each person is expected to provide his own refreshment. The train will leave Bloomfield at 9.28 A. M. on the Montclair and Greenwood Lake R. R., returning at 4.45 P. M. Excursion tickets will be at reduced rate. Members of the Society are at liberty to invite friends to accompany them.

The annual meeting of the Sunday School Teachers' Association, was held last Friday in the lecture room of the Baptist Church. The reports of the Secretary and Treasurer reviewed the work of the year, in which the work of the County Convention held here last fall and that of our Normal Class were referred to. Average attendance at Normal Class 35. Finances in good condition. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the following choice: Pres., F. B. Stone; Vice-Pres., S. L. Hubbard; Sec. and Tr., Walter Spaulding. After the election, remarks were made by several of the members of the association and some fine music was rendered in a duet and quartet which had been duly arranged. A very social time was spent at the close, when ice cream and cake were dispensed, at which time there was much cordiality and good feeling shown. About 100 were present and all seemed to enjoy the occasion.

Children's Day in the Churches.

"Summer Roses," a service of song and responsive readings by Hubert P. Main, was given in the First Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning by the Sunday-School, under the leadership of Mr. Theodore H. Ward and the Pastor. The Songs and Duets were feelingly rendered by Miss Jennie Morris and Mrs. E. Walter Morris. Mrs. H. W. Ballantine acted as organist. The singing by the school was executed with spirit and showed the careful training of their leader. An interesting feature of the service was the singing of the chorus, "While the Birds are Singing," and the recitation of the twenty-third Psalm by the Infant Class.

The decorations were especially fine. Daisies, ferns, syringas, pansies, and other flowers, were introduced with fine effect. Rows of daisies and ferns ornamented the fronts of pulpits and organ-loft, were turned about the gallery posts, and mingled with other flowers, were massed about the clock at the rear of the church. A handsome mat of white flowers with a center of pansies covered the altar cloth; while a beautiful cross stood under the gallery at the left of the pulpit. Baskets of ferns and flowers, with stars and wreaths were placed upon the stand or hung under the galleries.

For his short sermon to the children and their parents, the pastor Rev. H. W. Ballantine, chose the first visit of the child Jesus to the temple, as recorded in Luke, dwelling particularly upon his love for the house of God, his obedience to his parents, and the duty of parents to bring their children to the meetings in the sanctuary. Sabbath-Schools are useful, but they should not be allowed to usurp home-training or the worship of God's house. The audience was large, and the interest well-sustained to the close of the service.

The Children's Day exercises at the Park M. E. church were of a very interesting nature, and passed off very creditably. The exercises consisted of responsive readings and recitations, with a very pretty floral offering by some little girls of the Infant Class. The floral design of the service was that of a huge set of scales. The standard was six feet high with cross-piece of proportionate size, on either end of which the scales were suspended. This was all made of daisies and presented a fine appearance. An exercise in which eight scholars took part, entitled "Weighing the choice in life," was exceedingly interesting. The scholars came forward with a symbol representing their choice, repeating a selection appropriate to same, and were replied to by a scholar reading from the Bible, offsetting by scripture their choice of Wealth, Fame, Power, etc. The emblems were then deposited in one side of the scales, while in the other side the Bible was placed, which outweighed by far all that had been put in. The school then sang "Guard the Bible," after which the scales were taken off and by inserting a top-piece a complete cross was formed. The pastor then spoke very appropriately upon the subject of the Bible and the Cross, thus fastening in the minds of the children the truth brought out through the design. The singing was very fine and the audience large and appreciative.

Bloomfield Township Postoffices.

The following is a list of our postmasters and their would-be successors: At Bloomfield Mr. Horace Dodd, the present postmaster, was appointed in the early part of Mr. Lincoln's administration, and has been in the office about twenty-four years. The aspirants for this place are W. A. Akers, a carpenter and builder, who is Captain of the Dickerson Battery, a Democratic club organ, ized last Fall; Adam L. Brown, a cigar manufacturer, who is a veteran in the ranks of the Democracy; Pierson Hartt, a book-keeper and accountant, and John Lockwood, Jr., who is by trade a jeweler, but is now engaged in farming.

At Brookdale, the old Stonehouse Plains, Mr. Thomas P. Day is likely to remain in charge of the office. He is not classed among the "offensive partisans," and there seems to be no wish to have him removed.

Glen Ridge post-office is in charge of Thomas Morritz, the ticket agent at the station of the D. & W. railroad. As the office is in the railroad station, and there seems to be no opposition to Mr. Morritz retaining it, it is not probable that he will be superseded.

Watessing post-office is in East Orange township, just over the Bloomfield line. The only candidate heard of to succeed the present postmaster is Henry Bradley, a hatter by trade. Mr. Quimby is an out and out Republican, and was the captain of the Watessing Guards, a Blaine and Logan club of last Fall.

Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival.

A strawberry and ice cream festival was given on Wednesday evening in the lecture-room of the First Presbyterian Church, in aid of Hope Sunday School. The room was handsomely decorated with flags, evergreens and flowers. Tables for candy, cake, peanuts, and refreshments were arranged about the sides of the room. Little waiter-girls in white dresses and pretty caps flitted about, eagerly soliciting patronage, or filling empty button-holes with bouquets. In the center of the room stood the flower-table, its mass of evergreens, ferns, daisies, and smilax arranged in the form of a pyramid, with a literal "bed of roses" for a base; the gift of Mrs. Phineas J. Ward. The candy and cake were also prettily trimmed, and liberally patronized. Near the door the peanut woman disposed of her wares under an umbrella, while near-by the thirsty traveler quenched his thirst with the cooling lemonade.

The whole arrangement of the room was graceful and attractive, exciting many favorable comments from the audience. One of the attractions of the evening was the sale of good packages, conducted by Mr. James P. Jones. Frequent shouts of laughter arose from the purchasers, as dolls, musical instruments, jumping-jacks, and clothes pins, were successively unrolled from the encircling folds of paper. The eatables were invariably the best that could be procured, and sold readily. The small quantities remaining were easily disposed of at auction or private sale. A hasty computation of receipts at the close, showed a net balance of at least $75, which with the money on hand will probably prove sufficient for the present needs of the building fund.

Concert at Montclair.

The "Holy City," a sacred cantata by A. R. Gaul, was given in the Congregational Church, Montclair, by the Choral Union, under the direction of Mr. A. B. Siegfried, with Mrs. Gerrit Smith, soprano; Miss Alma Dell Martin, contralto; Mr. A. D. Woodruff, tenor; Mr. Beckett, basso; Miss Lowell, organist; and Mr. Pinney, pianist.

The work contains some pleasing selections, but the choruses lost all effect by being unevenly balanced. The "attack" was uncertain and they were sung without any thought of shading or expression. Had it been given in the city it would have ranked as a fair rehearsal. Of the soloists, Miss Martin easily held the first place, her rich contralto voice appearing to fine advantage; the others sang with their accustomed ability. The cantata was preceded by a miscellaneous programme in which the Quartette gave an artistic rendering of Bishop's "When Woeled Wretches."

Alfred R. Gaul's Cantata, "Ruth," was rendered in Newark on Wednesday evening, the 10th inst. This work was presented by a large chorus under the direction of Mr. Harris G. Crawford. The chorus work was received with great satisfaction by the large audience, and especially after the "Wedding Chorus," which despite the evident intention of the conductor not to reply to encores had to be repeated.

Of the solo parts, which were distributed as follows, nothing can be said except in highest praise: Miss Mary Dunn, soprano; Miss Irrie Kinsey, soprano; Miss Alma Dell Martin, contralto; Mr. Ritchie, basso; Mr. Wm. C. Carl, piano; and Mr. Wm. C. Lee, organ. The concert was opened with the "March to Calvary," from Gounod's "Redemption," arranged for piano and organ, which was finely rendered by Messrs. Carl and Lee.
